“ I got to know Dave when I worked for Target in Minneapolis. He would travel with Archie Fortune, Steve & Tommy Rhyne to do hosiery business with me. I would depict him as a Fine Southern Gentleman. He was always strait forward and incredibly honest in his presentations. I am actually still wearing the "Old Guys Rule" sox he sent me. He loved to play golf and we spent many rounds together. He also loved Myra and his family very much. He always had that cute smile on his face when telling about what was going on with his family. Hearing of his sudden death certainly was shock to me and my sons who also knew him. He will be missed, but is at Peace in the hands of the Lord. Walt Bielke

“ David was my room mate in Asheville NC (actually Black Mountain) in 1973-74 when we both worked for Avondale Mills. We spent every weekend driving home to Alabama. I cannot begin to tell you all the laughs and serious talks we had. I'm so sorry for your loss. David was truly special!

“ Myra & family my heart breaks for you. It has been a long Time since I last saw you and David at an SHS class reunion and you two were beaming you looked so happy! I remember David from elementary to junior high at B.B. Comer then he went to Sylacauga high School where he finished with my husband Steve Pullen. I always liked David . He was always grinning and was such a nice person. Our paths never crossed again but I have thought about you both a lot over the years and always hoped you were doing well. Life takes us in a lot of different directions. I'm sorry we never got to see you again but just know that you are in our thoughts and prayers. Brenda (Smitty) & Steve Pullen

“ His voice, his songs, his lame jokes, his advice, his rants, his motivational speeches, his paintings....are sprinkled through my entire life and tucked in my heart forever. He was bigger than life and we were all blessed to have him in ours.

“ What great memories I have of David and the Austin Family from living in the Walco neighborhood. Listening to David's Mom tell ghost stories and taking all the kids to the White Midget to get burgers. What a thrill to spend the night and get Hawaiian Punch. We played at Alamo behind Walco Grocery, rode bikes around boxing mill and set plastic planes and soldiers on fire in a battle. Later in time David introduced me to Lobster in the Chattanooga Cho Cho restaurant while we were working at Avondale. He talked to me about his book that included the Walco life and i wished i could have set down with him and did another book of how great it was being raised in that time. I will miss him but the memories will last forever of the Great Austin Family that i was so lucky to be around.

David, i know Mr. Bill and Mom Lois will be happy to see you again! God Bless the Austin Family.

“ Meeting Dave was immediately finding my best friend. We started out laughing together and it never stopped. Our first meeting was to buy a fishing license after he and Myra moved to New Jersey. Our second meeting was to eat dinner that Myra had whipped up, fried chicken, turnip greens and a big iron skillet of cornbread. So, fishing and eating, Dave and I were on the same page right off the bat. He was the only choice as best man at my wedding. We had serious discussions and we had fun discussions. He was always the same. One of the things I respected about him was his dedication to his family. He loved his brothers and he loved Myra , Ellie and Rob. Whenever we talked they all came up in the conversation. I miss him already but I know his faith has helped lead him home.

“ Dave and I have travelled many thousands of miles together the last 30 years. Lots of hard work and tons of good times and laughter. We shared the lord with each other frequently. We both had the best grandchildren in the world. What do you say about someone you were so close to after 32 years. Say hello to Jesus for me and I look forward to all of us being together in eternity. Love to all the family. Joe Prevette

“ Dave was always very polite and friendly to me. My husband George had huge respect for him. I thought so much of him because he was kind and helpful to George. Maybe they are having a reunion in Heaven now. I'm sorry the family is having to deal with the separation. My heart hurts for you. Janet Hartline

“ I remember when the kids were little and Dave traveled so much, they were always so excited to see their Daddy walk through the door. I know how proud he was of Ellie and Rob. When pictures were posted on Facebook you could just see the love he had for his grandchildren. Loving husband, Daddy and good friend! RIP my friend.

“ Tall, handsome, good-humored, dimpled, gentle, witty. That is my picture of David. Please accept my sympathy for this great loss. My prayer for you is faith, comfort and beautiful memories to sustain you until the great reunion.

“ David was always a joy to be around and he brought the life to the party. Everyone loved David. First his parents did, then Myra and the children, and then the grandchildren. David also had a wide group of friends who loved him and they were friends with him from childhood on. He also leaves behind three brothers who adored him and all had special and different relationships with him. It was one of his gifts that his customers were his friends too. People were drawn to David for his warmth and his love of laughter. When I was dressing for my wedding, there was a knock at the door and my mother said it was David. I was slightly irritated because I wanted my husband to see my dress first, but I went to the door and my newly- minted brother told me he just wanted to make sure that I was alright-I nearly cried at the sweetness of a man who could be my brother before he was officially my brother. So when you ask us, "Will he be missed?". The answer is how could he NOT.~~Nancy Peavy Austin
