“ Tommy (Wire Head) all his friends called him was a unique man. When you first met WIRE you thought he was biggest grouch in world but beneath the crusty outside he had great sense on humor. Wire head loved to play golf, smoke cigars and drink scotch. Wire loved to harass his opponents in golf with his loud and sometimes unruly outbursts. He was a true Auburn man and loved his Auburn football and school.

I've had some great trips and times with Wire. He did a lot for the community but didn't want any recognition for his donations. Every year when we had Kiwanis pancake day he would purchase tickets for all the adults at the Adult training center. I bet Wire and Ben Smith are getting up a golf match right now and are having a heated argument about the bet.
