“ When we moved to Greensboro to join the Sears staff there. Don was nice enough to take me under his wing and help me along. I still credit much of whatever success I had to his influence. Betty was a true Southern lady but my wife (Carolyn) was from one of the toughest parts of Pittsburgh. I thought there is NO WAY that this will work. Betty was so unbelievably gracious, tolerant and friendly that they became close friends. Elizabeth, as she has come to be known, was a shining star of real Southern Hospitality and I will always be grateful.
