“ So many memories of working with Fred at Oconee Nuclear Station and Duke Power’s General Office in Charlotte. One of my favorite was when I was Fred’s supervisor in the “GO” and we finally got personal computers. I had a hard time getting Fred to use his - “it was just too hard to figure out!” Until one day I walked over to his office and he didn’t notice me - and there he was “working” away on his computer - I think it was the e-Trade web site or something similar! I said “I thought you didn’t know how to use this thing!” To which he replied “I do if it’s something I want to do!” He will be greatly missed by many who knew him.
