“ I knew John through work and had many encounters with him over the past five years. I remember John as someone who took his job very seriously, was always so level headed and always supported his people. I was so sad and shocked to hear of his passing, and even though I never met his family, my thoughts immediately went to them and how sad they must feel at this moment. Cherish the memories you have, and know that he will always be looking down on you as your guardian angel.

“ I have great memories as kids but truly not enough as we grew up. But one thing is a given, Johnny grew up to be one fine man, husband and father! Johnny Mack was a man that you could look up to. A man that married his high school sweetheart and took those vows to heart, for better or worst! He loved his wife with such a great love, one that is hard to find these days, just as she did him. Together they stuck it out through the hard times and cherished the good times! Making memories daily! Together they had two amazing children and they raised them with morals and great love! They taught them to do good and to have respect for themselves as well as for others! They supported their children's interest in life, what was important to their children became important to them. Just a great family that everyone can admire! Sometimes you just know that God sometimes takes the best way to early.
