“ I remember all of those times that I went and spent the night with nanny. She almost every night made her homemade biscuits or had a cookout with our family. She was always so respectful to her family and friends and especially her grandchildren just like how she taught us to be respectful to adults also. I can see her right now in heaven drinking coffee, smoking her cigarette, and watching her southern shows. What good memories! We miss you nanny you were and will always be a great grandmother. I miss you!

“ I remember us playing cowboys and indians and u shot you in the back with Alan's BB gun..lol..I know it hurt..it stung you hard...gheeze..how was I suppose to know it was loaded...never even thought about that...we made lots of mud pies under the old mimosa tree... climbed the most amazing apple tree and ate the best green apples in the world..we would get on a piece of cardboard and slide down the little hill that was under a pine tree. We had some fun times when we were growing up. I wished we could have made time to see each other more after we grew up. I will miss you cuz. I love you. love Karen
