“ I worked with Mickey at Mead for 15 years, he taught me what little I know of the Mechanical Field, but he was a brilliant mechanic and welder and anything else he touched his hands to.

I considered him my mentor, and a big brother. I went to Mickey many times for advice. He was a very quiet man with a great sense of humor, and he liked nothing better than to rig up some elaborate practical joke to prank some deserving soul.

Mickey helped me and many others, quietly in the background.

I owe Mickey a great debt of gratitude.

May God bless Mickey and all those that he loved.
