“ I'm going to miss this feller . One of my all time favorite people ive ever known . Lord at my youthful shenanigans he put up with . I made him shake his head many times . I have so many stories that will always be fond memories of Ronnie . I learned to value the advice he gave me (when I got old enough to understand it) and am thankful for it . I remember how he shook my hand when I left for basic training , he told me finally , maybe someone else could keep me straight for awhile , lol . I didnt have a dad around , and he knew it, so he spent a good bit of time watching out for me , and correcting me as I needed it . Im proud to have called him friend and it was my honor to know him . Thank you for that Mr Ronnie .
