“ I remember when we used to work on hot days he made me work all day in the hot sometimes it would be in the cold he never really knew anything about school because his whole life was about work that's how he made a living he has built so many things including a lovely family and I love him and care for him for that and i remember the times that he would ask me to go downtown to get things for him he was such an amazing great grandpa he never really cared about what the weather was outside unless it was raining he would go outside everyday and work as long as it wasn't raining and this speech may just not make sense to whoever reads this but this should make sense.
